Subject: Formal response to RSC/ExamplesEditor/2024/1 - Proposal to add glossary definitions for fictitious entity and non-human entity

EURIG thanks the Examples Editor for this proposal, part of a growing and welcome trend to make implicit information in the Toolkit explicit. We also appreciate the sensitivity displayed in creating a proposal which allows space for the various communities implementing RDA room to follow their own cultural views while staying in compliance with RDA guidelines.

This proposal is especially timely with the growing number of generative AI "created" content and the work of the Joint Working Group on AI.

Recommendation 1:
Approve, but would prefer the broader term "source of information" be used instead of "reference source," in keeping with the broadness of the definition.

Recommendation 2:
Approve, but would prefer the broader term "source of information" be used instead of "reference source," in keeping with the broadness of the definition.
